REAL PEOPLE FACULTY 1983

Pearl M. Warner,
Principal

Dear Graduates:

The class of June 1983 is especially dear to me. Most of you entered John Bowne High School as 10th graders in September 1980 — exactly when I, too, joined John Bowne as its new Principal. Looking back, I realize that we have shared, during the past three years, many experiences, many exciting events, many ideas, many projects, many joys, and, sadly, some sorrows (in the loss of staff members so dear to all of us).

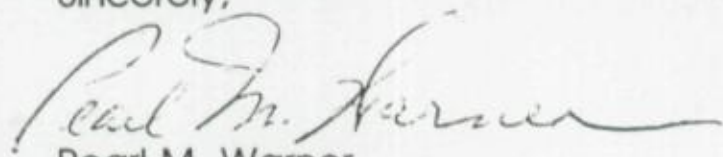

As you reminisce in later years, and reflect upon your high school days, fond memories will come to mind — the senior week-end, the Prom, Sing, school dances, the International Fair, trips, FFA conventions, clubs, sports awards dinners, faculty/student games, jog-a-thons, music festivals and art shows, and more, so much more. But what of your teachers, guidance counselors, grade advisors, friends; what of your studies, your accomplishments? Only at a much later period of your life will you recognize the deep-rooted influence your high school experience has had on you, or to what extent your life has been shaped by the knowledge imparted here.

As you continue your studies and finally enter the world of work, remember the theme of your school — "Many cultures, one world," and recognize the important contribution each person can make to the future of mankind, and to the goal of mutual understanding and world peace.

My dream for you is that you realize your career goals, achieve to your fullest capacity, and help to find solutions to the many problems that beset mankind. When I think of the years ahead, the 21st century, a warm feeling of confidence comes over me because I know that you will be there.

May God bless you in all of your endeavors.

Sincerely,

Pearl M. Warner

ACTIVITIES 1983

Yearbook Staff

Student Union Execs.

The Student Union is the back-bone of John Bowne High School. Attentative to all grades, the Student Union follows through whenever and wherever necessary. Besides helping individual students, the Student Union sponsors all activities such as dances, the May Fair, Flower Day, COSA, etc. The Student Union is just that, a combination of students helping fellow students. However, without the help of Mrs. Elaine Lipitz, Student Union co-ordinator, we wouldn't have a Student Union nor John Bowne's fine reputation attained through the Student Union.

Senior Office Execs

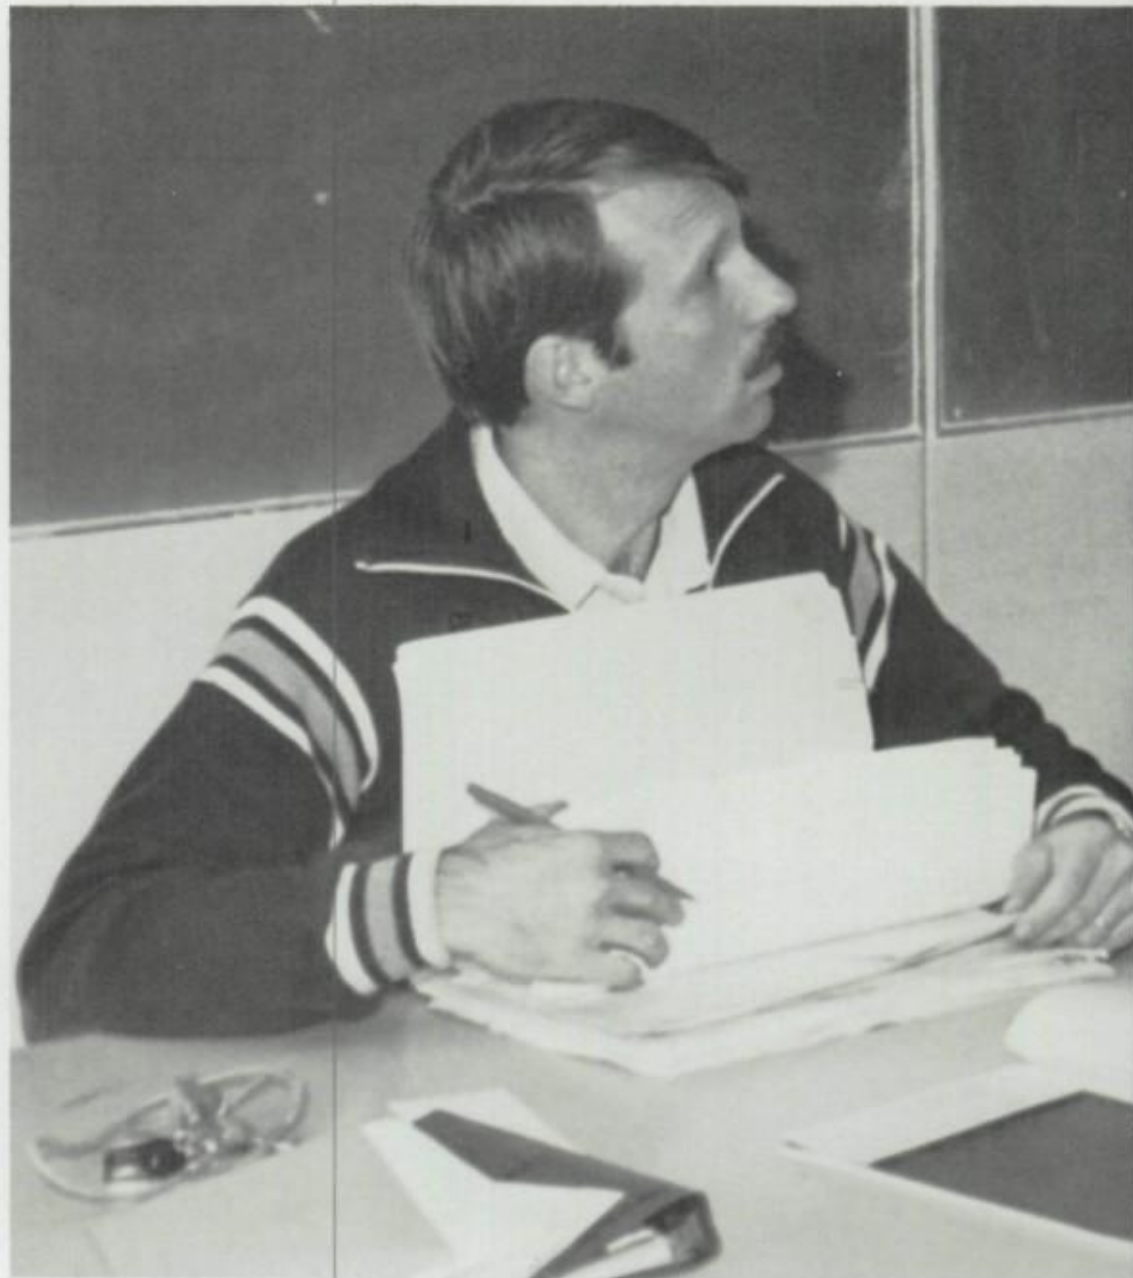

Senior Office

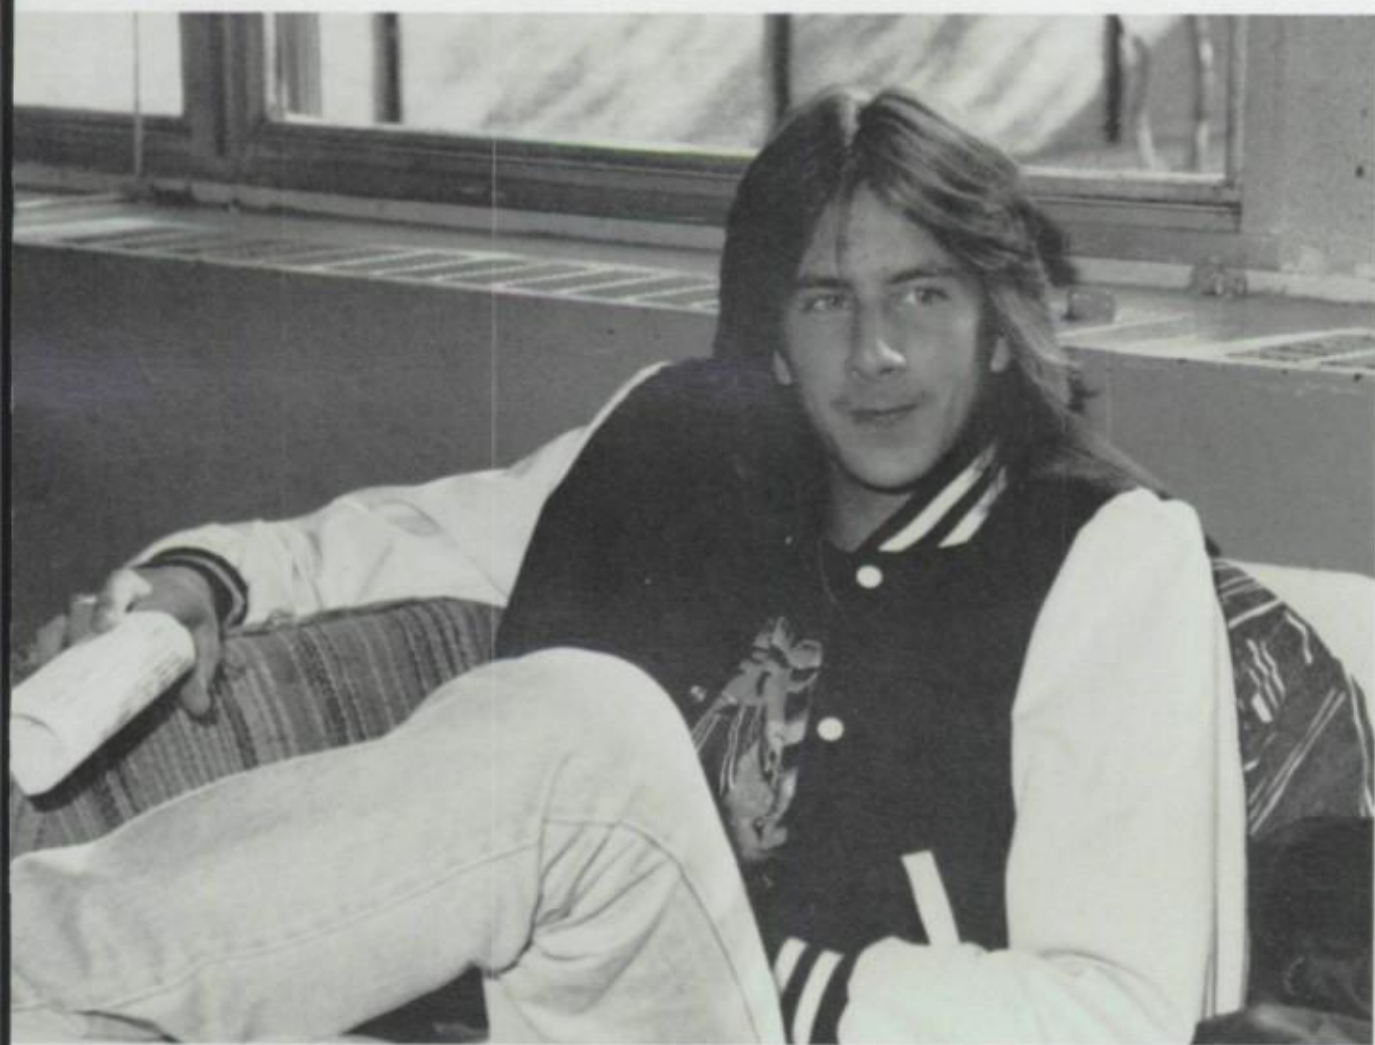

Senior Office

The job of the 1983 Senior Office is to organize activities for its seniors throughout the year. Through such activities as Senior Weekend and the Prom, the seniors are joined together so that their last year at Bowne is a memorable one.

Advisor: Mr. Belfi, Officers: Donna Dire, Karen Grey, Ricky Rengifo, and Monica Schurr

F.F.A. Execs.

John Bowne's chapter of the F.F.A. is a youth led organization for students enrolled in the Agricultural Program. Bowne's chapter is unique because it is made up of city students. They try to inform others about our growing dependencies on agriculture. This is achieved through many diverse activities

Flower Day

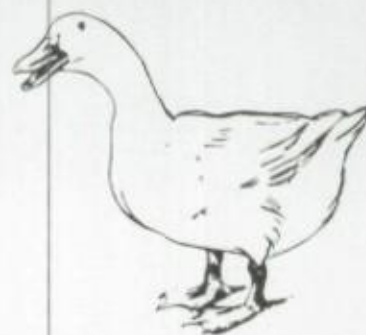

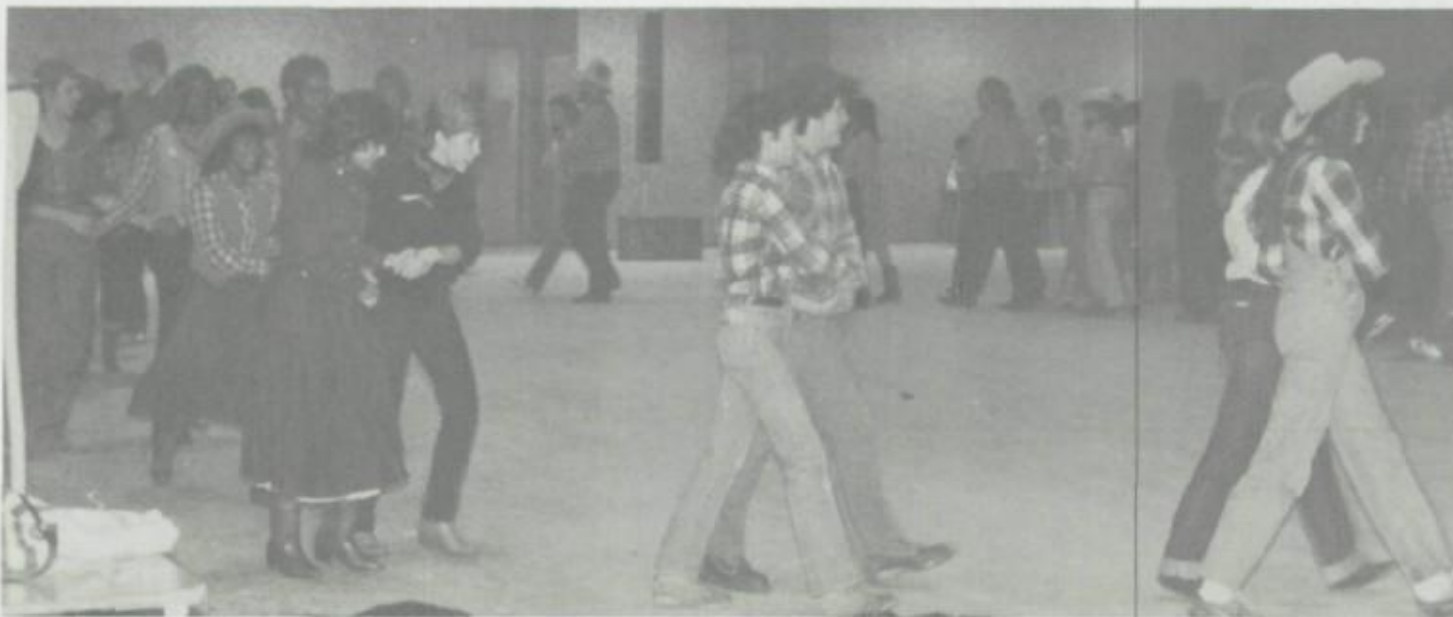

The Student Union ordered 1500 carnations for students and teachers alike to send to each other, in February of 1983. In addition to flowers there were delicious chocolates. If the flowers and chocolate didn't satisfy the heart, there was the "grand package", a flower, a lollipop, and a singing telegram.

Flower Day brought many hearts together as well as making many faces smile, and also turned out to be a huge success.

The Sweet-Gum Fruit

There are certain things in life that must be seen with the eye and can't be described. The Sweet-Gum Fruit is one of them. It's physical characteristics set it apart from all other objects but the literal description of it sounds all too mundane. The Sweet-Gum Fruit can be used to symbolize the life of a human.

Let's start by examining the name and looking at each word separately. "Sweet" could mean: appealing, attractive, pleasant tasting, sugary. When someone or something is too sweet it makes me look at it as something fake. "Gum" is a candy, also sweet, and you chew it for a long, long time. The chewing stops when you decide it should stop. It's up to you. "Fruit" has a few variegated meanings. It should be seen as a vegetable that bears seeds. It's also sweet. Fruit is related to life in some way. Maybe it goes back to when Eve ate the "forbidden" fruit and her punishment was the start of mankind. But wasn't the fruit there to trick her, to test her? Ah, so deception is involved when one speaks of a fruit.

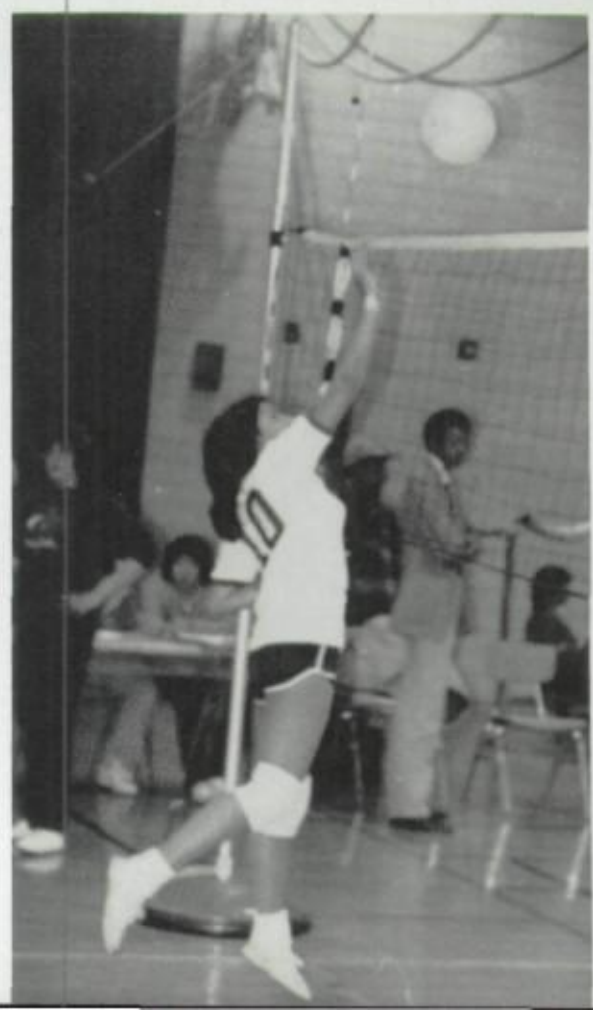

Let's describe the fruit physically. It starts with a long, narrow stem, leading into a spiked ball. The spikes don't just stick out they curve around, here and there. The mystery lies within. What is at the core of this fruit? Seeds? All I can see through the little openings is darkness.

After all my description it should be evident that this Sweet-Gum Fruit represents life. Like life it is sugary, sweet and pleasant. You can end it all at your own will. It's the fruit of life that is full of deception and trickery, covered by the appealing sweetness to hide the bitterness. It bears seeds as life does, so one may carry on one's traits. Deception and mystery are involved because you can't predict what will follow this darkness, but you keep going because the sweet taste of the results is what is leading you. Life is long (if you choose it to be), long, narrow and finally leads to the fruit. Looking at it, it almost reminds me of a sperm and an egg at the point of conception- the mysterious beginning of life.

The Sweet-Gum Fruit represents, symbolizes life, beginning, middle and end.

My Friend . . .

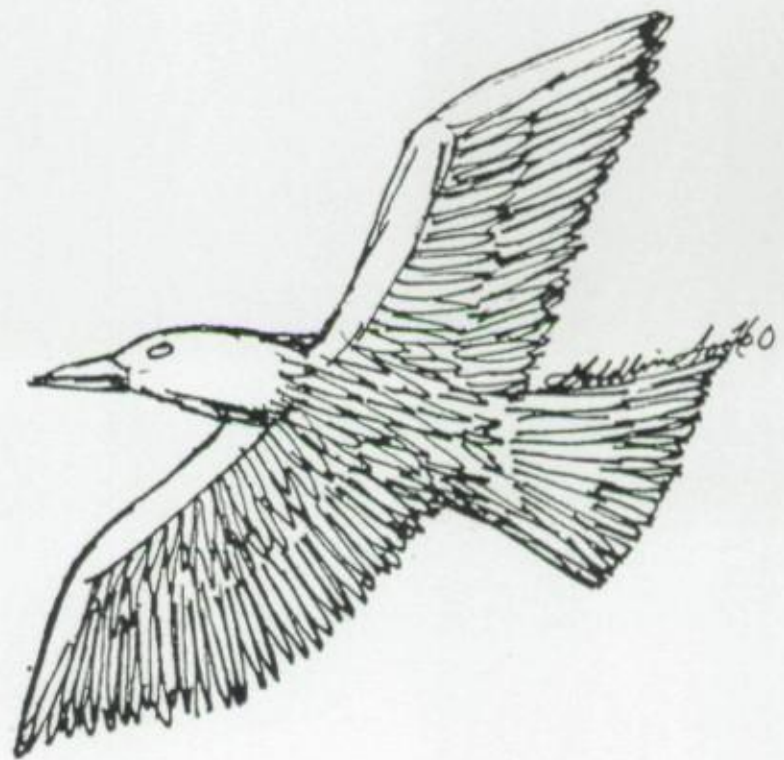

What a wonderful world it would be
If there were more people like you
People so generous, in so many ways
People with a friendship so very true

Yes my friend you are one of a kind
Your friendship I shall always treasure
I don't think I could really describe you
For you are beyond comparison or measure

And if ever you need someone to talk to
If ever the world has got you down
Just you call or give me a sign
And I'll wipe away that frown . . .

Mushfiqur Rahman

A Guiding Hand

People are the petals of flowers,
The waves of the ocean
And the clouds of the skies.

Endless in number,
Since the beginning of time,
As many as the sands of lands
Which emerge from
Beneath the waters;
As many as each drop
Of water in every river,
Lake or sea,
Flowing as the water
In everlasting springs,
Are the words spoken,
Searching for a guiding hand
To love and support,
The people of the world.
Jill Peer

"There must be a place beyond words- a place of pure experience-to which I wish I could return"

Jerzy Kosinski

Death And The Heavens

Darkness invades
And the soul,
With its complete loss of weight,
floats, ever so lightly,
Through endless times.

The stars gleam proudly and the heavens so graciously honor us in, into an entirely new atmosphere.

In this mass of time
we attain harmony
Love is so strongly felt
Peace so totally obtained,

Though not in life,
we receive such treasures
Death is the land
Of these Holy Measures.

Namita Manchanda

With a soul in which one could hear the sound
of a peaceful ocean,
and has an appearance all its own,
the seashell exists in our world,
like us,
choosing his own destiny.
